

UTC Sheffield – Trustee
Joint Resources Committee

Personal Profile:

Following brief careers in leisure, retail management and accountancy, Alison worked in Further and Higher Education as an educator and manager in colleges, universities, and private sector organisations, where she gained Chartered Member status of the CIPD.

Alison joined the NHS in 2008 and is Head of People Development at Sheffield Teaching Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust, one of the UK's largest, busiest, and most successful. It employs 18,000 staff and provides a full range of hospital and community services for people of Sheffield, and specialist care for patients from further afield.

An experienced coach trained by The Performance Coach, The NHS Leadership Academy and others, Alison is an accredited Healthcare Leadership Model 360° Feedback Facilitator, a Sheffield Microsystems Coaching Academy coach and a qualified NLP Master Practitioner. Her hobbies and interests include science, music, history, hiking and the natural environment.

Alison is a graduate of Liverpool Polytechnic, The University of Wolverhampton and is currently finalising a Senior Leaders MSc at The University of Sheffield.

She became a Governor at Sheffield UTC's OLP in 2019, and more recently joined the MAT Board and Joint Resources Committee.
