Appearance ideals: main messages to remember

Trying to match appearance ideals can be harmful.

They are based on opinion, not fact, and are changing all the time. This makes them unrealistic and actually impossible for most people to live up to.

The way you look is not a measure of your worth. Rather than focusing on appearance, value other qualities within yourself and your peers, and celebrate your real successes in life!

What action could you take to make appearance less important and to prevent yourself and others from focusing on appearance ideals? Record your answers below.

Taking action for yourself

Things you could do:

Carry out a random act of complimenting someone e.g. surprise a friend with a non-appearance-related compliment.

Carry out three feel-good things instead of spending time, money and/or emotional energy on trying to match appearance ideals.

*Celebrate your individuality and the diversity of the people you know.
Aim to be the best you can be – you are one of a kind!*
